VINEYARD

Grapes for this wine were sourced from California's famed Paragon Vineyard located in the Edna Valley. Characterized by its cool, constant temperatures, Edna Valley is an ideal location for the production of premium white wines. The long, cool growing season allows for an extended ripening period which enables the development of intense varietal flavors.

WINEMAKING

The Albariño grapes were hand harvested very early in the morning to ensure that they arrived at the winery as cold as possible. The whole clusters were lightly pressed and fermented slowly in stainless steel. This long cool fermentation process preserved the delicate flavors and aromas characteristic of Albariño. Fermentation was arrested before malolactic fermentation occurred which contributes to this wine's bright acidity.

WINEMAKER NOTES

Close your eyes and breathe in the bouquet and you will be transported to the grape laden pergolas of the Rias Baixas on Spain's Atlantic Coast. Peach, lemon curd and apricot lead into an elegant palate of polished stone and lychee. This wine tastes like a summer day.

Pair with Cajun Crab Cakes with Remoulade Sauce.
